

Dr. Debbie Wallace

Dr. Debbie Wallace is an Author, CEO, Producer, Host, Teacher and a Trailblazer. Yet she regards her most important job as the mother of two teenagers. She holds a doctorate in Preventive care from Loma Linda University, and was awarded 2 post-doctoral fellowships, one from the University of Alabama in Health another from Morehouse School of Medicine, Satcher Health Leadership Institute, in health Disparities, policy and leadership. Dr. Wallace is the Director of True Health Institute, a non-profit organization and is the CEO of 360 Health Enterprises which includes 360 Health Magazine and 360 Health Broadcasting Network (360HBN), a TV station which broadcasts health programs 24/7 free to the public. Dr. Debbie Wallace has received numerous awards for her service, most recently a Trailblazer award from the Atlanta Business League.

For over twenty years, Dr. Debbie Wallace has coined, “Without your health, nothing else matters.” The COVID19 pandemic revealed that health impacts even our economy and livelihood. Yet the one thing we all do that determines our health more than anything else is what we eat. Therefore, Dr. Wallace helped to launch the Full Taste Vegan Restaurant. The goal of this restaurant is to make plant-based meals affordable while filling you up with great taste, hence the name “Full Taste”. In reducing meat consumption, we also help the environment and improve climate change. In summary, Dr. Debbie Wallace deploys all her resources to improve the health of all people, which landed her the title of “America’s Public Health Crusader”.

Dr. Wallace serves as the Health Leader for Berean SDA church in Atlanta, Georgia, and volunteers much of her time to spreading the health message realizing Jesus is soon to return.